Ed:

Is it wise to include provisions like your proposed section 404, which grants us the ability to deal with personnel with drug or alcohol problems? Strikes me that every time we add another little provision which we think clarifies our authority, we in fact are reducing it. I really wonder if it's wise to chip away at our personnel authority in this way.

Second, I don't know what happened to the unauthorized disclosure question last year, but it seems to me we ought to try to get the Director's forces behind this in getting it to OMB and the Hill. We really do need some help with respect to leaks. If the country isn't able to take this tiny little step, I don't know what it can do.
